Universal Declaration of Human Rights ## Preamble Whereas recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world, Whereas disregard and contempt for human rights have resulted in barbarous acts which have outraged the conscience of mankind, and the advent of a world in which human beings shall enjoy freedom of speech and belief and freedom from fear and want has been proclaimed as the highest aspiration of the common people, Whereas it is essential, if human rights should be protected by the rule of law, Whereas it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between nations, Whereas the peoples of the United Nations have reaffirmed their faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person and in the equal rights of men and women and have determined to promote social progress and better standards of life in Whereas Member States have pledged themselves to achieve, in cooperation with the United Nations, the observance of human rights and fundamental freedoms, Whereas a understanding of these rights and freedoms is of the greatest importance for the full realization of this Proclaims this Universal Declaration of Human achievement for all peoples and all nations, to the end that every pledge, Now, therefore, The General Assembly, Rights as a common standard of and by progressive measures, national and international, to secure their keeping this Declaration constantly in mind, shall strive by teaching and education to promote respect for these rights and freedoms universal and effective recognition and observance, both among the peoples of Member States themselves and among the peoples of territories under their jurisdiction. ### Article 1 All human beings are born free and equal in with reason and conscience and should act towards one another in a spirit of brotherhood. ### Article 2 Everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms dignity and rights. They are endowed race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status. set forth in this Declaration, without distinction of any kind, such as jurisdictional or international status of the country or territory to which a person belongs, whether it be independent, trust, non-self-governing or under any other limitation of sovereignty. ### Article 3 Everyone has the right to life, liberty and the security of person. ### Article 4 No one shall be held in slavery or servitude; slavery and the slave trade shall be prohibited in all their forms. ### Article 5 No one shall be or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment. ### Article 6 Everyone has the right to recognition everywhere as a person before the law. ### Article 7 All are equal before the law and are entitled without any discrimination to equal protection of the law. All are entitled to equal protection against any discrimination in violation of this Declaration and against any incitement to such discrimination. ### Article 8 Everyone has the right to an effective remedy by the competent national tribunals for acts violating the fundamental rights granted him by the constitution or by law. ### Article 9 No one shall be subjected to arbitrary arrest, detention or exile. ### Article 10 Everyone is entitled in full equality to a fair and public hearing by an independent and impartial rights and obligations and of any criminal charge against him. ### Article 11 1. Everyone charged with a penal offence has the right to be presumed innocent until proved guilty tribunal, in the determination of his he has had all the guarantees necessary for his defence. 2. No one shall be held guilty of any according to law in a public trial at which international law, at the time when it was committed. Nor shall a heavier penalty be imposed than the one that was applicable at the time the penal offence was committed. ### Article 12 No one shall be subjected to arbitrary interference with his privacy, family, home or correspondence, nor to attacks upon his honour and reputation. Everyone has the right to the protection of the law against such interference or attacks. ### Article 13 1. Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and residence within the borders of each State. 2. Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own, and to return to his country. ### Article 14 1. Everyone has the right to seek and to enjoy in other countries asylum from persecution. 2. This right may not be invoked in the case of prosecutions genuinely arising from non-political crimes or from acts contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations. ### Article 15 1. Everyone has the right to a nationality. 2. No one shall be deprived of his nationality nor denied the right to change his nationality. ### Article 16 1. Men and women of full age, without any limitation due to race, nationality or religion, have the right to marry and to found a family. They are entitled to equal rights as to marriage, during marriage and at its dissolution. 2. The family is the natural and fundamental group unit of society and is entitled to protection by society and the State. ### Article 17 1. Everyone has the right to own property alone as well as in association with others. 2. No his property. ### Article 18 Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion; this right includes freedom to change his religion or belief, and freedom, either alone or in community with others and in public or private, to manifest his religion or belief in teaching, practice, worship and observance. ### Article 19 Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers. ### Article 20 1. Everyone has the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and association. 2. No one may be compelled to belong to an association. ### Article 21 1. Everyone has the right to take part in the government of his country, directly or through freely chosen representatives. 2. Everyone has the right of equal access to public service in his country. 3. The will of the people shall be the basis of the authority of government; this will shall be expressed in periodic and genuine elections which shall be by universal and equal suffrage and shall be held by secret vote or by equivalent free voting procedures. ### Article 22 Everyone, as a to social security and is entitled to realization, through national effort and co-operation and in accordance with the organization and resources of each economic, social and cultural rights indispensable for his dignity and the free personality. ### Article 23 1. Everyone has the right to work, to free development of his personality. 2. Everyone, without any discrimination, choice of employment, to just and favourable conditions of work and to protection unemployment. 3. Everyone who works has the right to just and existence worthy of human dignity, and work. 3. Everyone who works has the favourable remuneration supplemented, if necessary, by other means of social protection. 4. Everyone has the right to form and to join trade unions for the protection of his interests. ### Article 24 Everyone has the right to rest and leisure, including reasonable limitation of working hours and has the right to a standard of living adequate for the reasonable limitation of working hours periodic holidays with pay. ### Article 25 1. Everyone has the health and well-being of himself and of his family, including good, clothing, housing and medical care and necessary sickness, disability, widowhood, old age or other lack of livelihood in circumstances beyond his control. 2. Everyone is entitled to special care and or out of wedlock, shall enjoy the same social protection. ### Article 26 1. Everyone has the right to education. Education shall be free, at least in the elementary and Elementary education shall be compulsory. Technical and professional education shall be made generally available and higher education shall be on the basis of merit. 2. Education shall be directed to the full development of the human personality and to the strengthening of respect for human rights and It shall promote understanding, tolerance and friendship among all nations, racial or religious groups, and further the activities of the United Nations for the maintenance of peace. prior right to choose the kind of education that shall be given to their children. ### Article 27 1. Everyone has the right freely to participate in the cultural life of the community, to enjoy the arts and to share in scientific advancement and its benefits. 2. Everyone has the right to the protection of the moral and material interests resulting from any scientific, literary or artistic production of which he is the author. ### Article 28 Everyone is entitled to a social and international order in which the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration can be fully realized. ### Article 29 1. Everyone has duties to the community in which alone the free and full development of his personality is possible. 2. In the exercise of his rights and freedoms, everyone shall be subject only to such limitations as are determined by law solely for the purpose of securing due recognition and respect for the rights and freedoms of others and of meeting the just requirements of morality, public order and the general welfare in a democratic society. 3. These rights and freedoms may in no case be exercised contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations. ### Article 30 Nothing in this Declaration may be interpreted as implying for any State, group or person any right to engage in any activity or to perform any act aimed at the destruction of any of the rights and freedoms set forth herein.